

Welcome to your preview of The Times

Subscribe now

Where mouth-watering meals cost eye-watering £1,200 a head in Ibiza

Graham Keeley Madrid
Last updated at 12:01AM, April 18 2014

It promises to be the ultimate dining experience — and, at about £1,200 a head, it had better live up to the hype.

Sublimotion, dubbed the world's most expensive restaurant, will open on the Spanish island of Ibiza on June 1, offering a two-hour "gastro-sensory" experience for only one group of 12 at a sitting. The meal will consist of exotic snacks inspired by tastes from around the world, accompanied by fine wines.

Paco Roncero, the Spanish chef with two Michelin stars who runs the Casino de Madrid restaurant in the Spanish capital, will be drawing up the menu. "It will

Paco Roncero will be drawing up the menu
Nelson Barnard/Getty Images

Post a comment

Print

Share via

Facebook

Twitter

Google+

Seguro de Salud Aegon

 Hospitalización 100% incluida

AEGON
Asegura el mañana

Clic Aquí >

More from Europe

Russian Facebook creator leaves country refusing to reveal names of Kiev supporters

Updated 3 minutes ago
The founder of the Russian equivalent of Facebook has left the country because of pressure from the Kremlin's security services to block dissident voices on his site

Biden says Russia has to live up to Ukraine deal

Last updated at 1:07PM, April 22 2014
Joe Biden delivered a

Ukrainian journalists abducted

Last updated at 8:37PM, April 21 2014
Irma Krat was paraded blindfolded in front of TV cameras by militia men who claim she was detained on suspicion of 'war crimes'

Schumacher sued by biker despite being in coma

Last updated at 12:01AM, April 22 2014
The motorcyclist, named only as Francisco MA, claims that the German driver knocked him off his bike last November